

From: Joe Lukeman [mailto: ]

Sent: Wednesday, September 16, 2015 8:32 PM

To: Wiesner, David K; Drew, Tim; Honigberg, Martin; Burack, Thomas; rose@dred.state.nh.us; Scott, Robert; Muzzey, Elizabeth; dbrillhart@dot.state.nh.us; weathersbylawpllc@gmail.com; rhawk@hawkplanning.com; rwhitaker@ccsnh.edu; brian.buonamano@doj.nh.gov

Subject: RE: SEC Rulemaking 2014-04 Draft Final Proposals as Filed with OLS

Dear SEC Rules decisionmakers,

I was shocked to learn that in a recent meeting, EDP's lawyer, Susan Geiger, has basically suggested all the changes incorporated to protect the public be removed from the rules. Her argument is there have been NO complaints with any of the (3) NH wind projects.

If there are no issues then having the rules will do no harm and will not impede any project.

However in fact there have been many complaints. If any one of you had just sat in on a town meeting in Groton they would have faced an avalanche of complaints. In one of the select board meetings in Groton I thought that Michael Iacopino was an attorney for the wind project based on how he handled all the complaints voiced. He did a good job given the number of complaints. Ask him about the meeting.

The reason that local opposition in all the area towns to wind energy projects is so fierce is the number of issues created by the Groton project. Can anyone name a town adjacent to Groton who is not on record opposing additional wind projects? I think that you all know there are no towns in that area who want another wind project. Please listen to common sense and not lawyers that can make obviously false assertions with a straight face.

Joseph Lukeman
Bristol NH resident