

The SEC should wait to assess this application (2015-05) for completeness until the new Rules are finalized. Eversource and National Grid are at this moment fighting to avoid transmission line setbacks in the new rules. It appears they purposefully timed their application so as not to be subject to the more stringent requirements and higher standards of the new.

Would it not be in the best interests of the State to wait a month so this project would be subject to what the State itself has set in motion: New Rules embodying higher standards to protect NH citizens?

Kris Pastoriza
Easton