Dear Pamela,

As a homeowner in Canterbury NH with property abutting the proposed power line, I am vehemently opposed to the line. The towers will be in my backyard and will without doubt decrease my property value. If the line will be buried as it tis most other states it will pass through I would not be opposed. In my eyes agreeing to bury portions to appease certain towns in NH but not others is a slap in my face. My views and property are just as important as others. Knowing this power will not even go to NH residents but cities South of here makes it even more important that they bury the lines the entire route.
