The Northern Pass project is a no-win proposition for New Hampshire. It hurts our environment, including the land and animals and our enjoyment of it. It turns our naturally given environment into a means for profit for others.

If the idea is to create jobs for our state, we need much more: jobs that are permanent and in many locations around the state so that we can all benefit from them. Find ways to make OUR energy cheaper and more attainable. Bury cables instead of stringing them up over the landscape where the horrific wind we have will be forever blowing them down and putting us in danger of freezing or those of us depending on electricity for medical support of dying. Make our state more attractive to American companies who want to come and stay here and hire American. Don't sell out to the first and only bad idea that comes along.
