We just purchased our first house and we chose Deerfield for many reasons. The biggest one being how "country" it is out here with out the slightest hint of city anywhere. I will have to drive by the northern pass site to and from work everyday, thus taking away from the whole reason I moved to this beautiful town. The fact that we are willing to compromise our beautiful state for the sake of money is heart breaking and despicable. What about the homeowners whose homes and property are going to fall right next to the northern pass? Who will compensate them for the loss of property value due to the massive towers? When we where looking at properties we told our realtor that any homes even close to power lines was an absolute deal breaker. Please help save our beautiful state.
