I was born in NH and was taught right from the beginning to respect the pristine beauty of the state. It is hard to believe that anyone with roots in NH would want those huge towers and cables to run 191 miles through the whole state!! I live near the Canadian border and know what those towers and cables look like first hand. If they are allowed to run the length of the state it will be the end of scenic NH for ever. Once those trees are removed they will not be allowed to grow back -- ever!!!! New Hampshire will not benefit from those towers and cables. Once that electrical power is sent to the grid in the states below us, the power will be sold back to us and what cost???
