I live within sight of where the towers will be. They are slated to go underground at the Eversource right of way at route 302 adjacent to scenic Brook Lake right where a new extended stay tourist hotel is slated to be built. The line should be buried along the entire route but at least have it go underground before it gets to the highly traveled and very visible site at Route 302. One mile farther north and it won't be visible from Route 302.
