The proposal to string electric lines from Canada to Massachusetts is harmful to the state of NH and its inhabitants. Burying the line is better than nothing but to consider burying the line through the center of the town of Plymouth is unacceptable. Business would be disrupted for months creating serious financial problems for local businesses.

There would be no increase in employment because skilled workers would be needed for the project and the jobs would disappear after the project is completed. Besides NH has very low unemployment so there is no benefit.

The lawyers are the people benefitting from the project especially as the proposal gets dragged out.

The electricity is not destined for NH so there is no relief from the high cost of electricity.

Please reconsider the whole project.
