Hello,

As a lifelong NH resident, I wish to voice my family's strong opposition to this hideous idea. We can not allow money-hungry corporations to destroy the natural, pristine beauty of our state. Not only do native Granite-Staters thrive on this rugged beauty, but we depend immensely on tourism dollars from those from other states as well as internationally. I fear we would lose way more than gain financially. There is no amount of jobs (which can't be guaranteed to NH workers anyway) & no guarantee of significant energy savings that can allow us to sell out our souls to the devil. This monstrosity would be passed on to future generations. Let's continue our surge & focus on affordable solar power. We don't need, or want, massive 85-155 foot towers soaring above our mountains and main highways all through our state.
