

SEC COMMENTS COLLECTION

SECDocket	2015-06 Northern Pass Transmission - Eversource
CommenterName	Michael Morley
CommenterCity	Sugar Hill
DateReceived	08-03-2017

CommenterWords

My opposition to Northern Pass:

- I grew up in Southern NH and practiced in Amherst for 20 years until un (sightly) controlled growth overtook the beautiful town I remembered as a child
- Burying cables under routes 18 and 116 will put many local people out of business. This will impact tourism that needs these small businesses to keep people coming back
- Granite State Power Link is a much better option for a host of reasons. It goes through a very rural part of Vermont that already has a transmission corridor that has caused little to no opposition or problems.
- If NP comes to fruition, you will not want to spend your vacation in northern New Hampshire
- Yale University should be ashamed of its concealment of ownership of large parcels of land that it has leased for NP. This is purely for financial gain for Yale and is the height of hypocrisy – to be teaching environmental science and allowing its land holdings to desecrate our state.

Michael Morley DDS