I live in Vermont, so Northern Pass is NIMBY. Over the past 35 years, I have spent tens of thousands of dollars recreating in New Hampshire. I have stayed at Inns, campgrounds and motels. I have spent my money at your gas stations, restaurants and tourist attractions to name a few.

If the proposed towers are built for Northern Pass, I will not return. I have seen the mega towers in Northern Quebec near James Bay. They were horrid! The swath was so large - the towers dwarfed anything I have seen. It left the worst scar on the Land. This scar will be like one on a woman's face - it will always be there and she will never get used to it.

What I don't understand is why can we dig up thousands of miles of six-lane interstate highways, but can't dig a three-foot trench 194 miles?

Eversource is not a good steward of the Land for New Hampshire. We can and must do better. Let's not be penny-wise and pound foolish.
