Dear Pamela Monroe,

I respectfully urge you the SEC to reject Northern Pass's certificate. Northern Pass does not make sense in this day and age with the technology available to us, and in light of the other, less intrusive, plans offered by other utility companies. Simply put, this project does not benefit New Hampshire.

As a resident of the North Country, I see first hand what the state has to lose so that Eversource and HydroQuebec can win financial gain. Their plan would damage the tourist economy of the North Country through the installation of massive and ugly transmission towers that will mar New Hampshire's natural beauty. Local homeowners will be forced to unnecessarily surrender land through eminent domain, while local businesses---many already fighting to survive---will suffer from the loss of tourist dollars as well as the negative impact of protracted road construction.

This plan is simply a bad deal for New Hampshire, and especially for the residents and the lands of the North Country.

I hope the committee will reject this project's certificate to prevent it from harming our state.

Sincerely,
Thomas Adamick
