As many of my neighbors and colleagues pointed out on your recent visit to Plymouth, Northern Pass will have disastrous consequences for the communities through which it is projected to run.

Plymouth has a busy downtown that regularly serves local residents, visitors, and 2500 University students. Tourism is our life blood, and if you eliminate that and local business for three months while transmission line are implanted under Main Street, the town and local area will be devastated .

There is nothing good for Plymouth in Northern Pass...all the power goes to Southern New England while NH communities pay the price.

Certainly you can cook up better schemes than this for the good of NH.

Respectfully, Elizabeth Cheney, Rumney NH
