Dear Ms. Monroe:

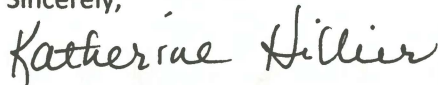

We have lived in Plymouth for many years, and have come to love this small town and all it offers. Residents are proud of its beautiful Common and downtown Main Street, and its adjacent National Historic District. We are so appreciative of our beautiful White Mountains which offer superb recreation and vacation opportunities for hundreds of thousands of visitors each year, as well as year- round beauty to its residents.

We are dismayed at the possibility of the Northern Pass project and the damage it would wreak. The image of monstrously tall and ugly towers marching their way through our glorious White Mountains and North Country is appalling. The possibility of Plymouth's Main Street being torn up for months on end is equally distressing; it would hit our merchants hard, and likely some would not survive the certain decrease in sales. And can you imagine -- hiking these mountains, surrounded with nature and simply breathtaking views -- and finding the scenery trashed with wires and steel?

And for what? New Hampshire residents won't benefit from the power carried by these lines, and temporary jobs are just that. It isn't worth all we will lose.

Please --- do the right thing and withdraw your support for the entire Northern Pass project. These towers don't belong here.

Sincerely,

Katherine Hillier
