Hydro Quebec has fouled its own nest through its diversion of the beautiful wild rivers of eastern Quebec which have caused significant environmental damage to say nothing about the disrespect of Quebec's native people historic homes through mandatory displacement. This Northern Pass project now seeks to foul the nest of the pristine landscape of New Hampshire.

It is of no surprise that the Federal government has recently issued one of the more important required permits to Hydro Quebec for its proposed project for we know who is in charge of our federal government and the background of this administration's choice to head the EPA.

Notwithstanding this latest federal permit approval, the citizens of New Hampshire can continue to fight for the preservation of our country side by writing and raising our voices to our representatives in the state legislature as well as those individuals who sit on the Site Evaluation Committee.

We know that this project does not benefit New Hampshire. Just follow the money to see who benefits: Hydro Quebec, Eversource/PSNH and the southern New England states.

Don't let the power of money behind the Northern Pass project lead us to the bottom!
