Dear Pamela Monroe,

I am an original New Hampshire native. I was born in Portsmouth, lived in Rye, then North Hampton, then Epping where I grew up. I still have family and friends in Epping. I have witnessed the growth and destruction of the Epping I grew up in, it's long gone. As an adult I lived in Northwood where my parents had moved too as well as many friends from Epping. All searching for the beauty, peace and quiet we all had in Epping at one time. Over the years even Northwood has grown. I now live in Columbia, three hours north of Northwood. I have discovered many people I knew from Epping have moved up here as well, again, trying to find what we once had. It's beautiful in Coos County. It's still quiet and peaceful. Most of all incredibly beautiful!!! If the beauty and peacefulness of Coos County is taken away, where are we going to go next???? I guess maybe northern Maine? Vermont or Canada??? Is that what you want? All of the people who enjoy nature and peace to keep moving north?? Become Canadians? When I drive south, to Concord, Northwood area, I can't stand it!! Too much traffic, too many people, too much of everything!!! Please, please, please don't ruin the rest of our state. There are other power options, options that won't destroy what's left of the beauty of New Hampshire. Please find another way. I was born in NH, I would like to die in NH. I don't want to be forced to keep going north!!

Sincerely,
Pamela Stewart
