Eversource held a job fair right before the holidays, dangling the promise of a job and income from a project that hasn't even been approved yet. This act shows what they think of the people of New Hampshire and demonstrates their willingness to tread over the landscape for the sake of Eversource profit.

I've read that the cost savings to NH electric rate payers could be around $20/year. I would gladly give them $20 for every year of the rest of my life to keep them from pursuing this ill-fated project.
