

SEC COMMENTS COLLECTION

SECDocket	2015-06 Northern Pass Transmission - Eversource
CommenterName	Mark Cate
CommenterCity	Manchester
DateReceived	12-18-2017

CommenterWords

Regular power lines have altered the scenery across the state for many years but the height and size of the proposed power lines will be an even bigger blight on the beauty of our state, especially in areas where tourism is a major part of their economy. There is no savings offered across the board to NH residents to even consider altering our landscape just to benefit states south of our border and greedy energy companies, especially Eversource. Even if there were a savings I would still object because it gives Eversource even more control in our state. The state of NH should create a state run utility company, taking over all power lines to get out-of-state companies out of here. It angers me that when they close a plant the state has to reimburse them. That's ridiculous.