Dear Pamela Monroe,

Dear members of the SEC-

My husband, two children and I are residents of Thornton, New Hampshire. We love our community and own a small home bordering the national forest. I've been a New Hampshire resident all of my life, born in Portsmouth New Hampshire, but I've lived in the Plymouth area for over 20 years. This is our home and we love New Hampshire and we choose to live where we do because of the beautiful landscape, the safety and strong communities that we have to help raise our children in, and because we feel like we have a voice and share the same values as people around us. We know that our thoughts and needs are heard and respected, and our actions make a difference in preserving the way of life that we choose to have a New Hampshire. I'm so disappointed about the Northern Pass initiative and that it hasn't been shut down by now seeming that so many people in New Hampshire are completely opposed to it, especially in a time where values are being challenged and the voices of regular people are being ignored. I strongly urge you to protect the voice of the people and do everything in your power to oppose the Northern Pass, or at least make a compromise that everyone can live with despite the project costing extra money for people who obviously already have a lot of money to invest in what they want to make happen; for example burying the lines down the medium of the interstate, steering clear of towns that will be negatively impacted by work that will need to be done to bury lines or have towers through them. New Hampshire will lose if the Northern Pass is approved. You'll lose loyal residents like us.

Sincerely,
Michelle Golden
