I have been a resident of NH since 2007. I specifically moved here after an Air Force career because of the beautiful scenery and the outdoor activities that are available year round. I am not alone in the pursuit of these activities. The outdoor tourist industry in NH is a main source of income for the state. Why would the SEC allow or approve the Northern Pass project that puts the scenic wonder of our beautiful state at risk? We stand to lose the beauty of our home--period. Even buried--ever bury anything in the GRANITE state?--it would mean blasting. The residents of NH are not the end users of the energy--period. Energy costs and usage have gone down and Hydro-Quebec doesn't talk about the impact on NH users, just New England users... Any jobs created for local people would be lower income manual labor jobs during actual construction--not high end continuing positions--these go to Canadian originators. The actual construction costs have been debated--Hydro-Quebec says it won't pay...then who does? US! Just tell them to GO HOME! Leave our state and our forests alone. I am completely opposed to this project.
