When Seabrook was built, we were told the electricity would be "too cheap to meter"

When PSNH was sold, we were told that rates would go down.

When EnergyNorth was sold, we were told that rates would go down.

When the Northern Pass is built, we're being told that rates will go down.

We have been down this road too many times for me to believe it. We need new energy, but the visual and environmental costs (not to mention the real costs) of this project are too great. Mark my words, the ratepayers will be on the hook...again.

I urge you to vote against this project.
