Arguably the natural beauty of our state is our greatest resource and few things legislators could do could present more lasting harm to our state than allowing the Northern Pass to go through. This line would scar some of the most sensitive and beautiful lands for generations upon generations and what benefit shall we present to those future generations to justify this trade? What legacy will we point to that has survived to benefit them and honor the name of those legislators that made this decision at one brief point in time when a pittance was offered?
