Dear Pam,

While I appreciate the opportunity to comment on the Site 300 rule making process, I fear nobody is listening. Documented negative impacts to our health, and the health of our environment from high pressure gas pipelines are numerous.

Research is on going,

but it seems the results are being ignored.

KM/TGPs deceptive clamour continues to manipulate the negative impacts of the proposed NED pipeline project. Natural gas is NOT "natural", its fracked gas, and it has serious health consequences. If the public policy of the state of New Hampshire is "to promote the public health of the state by reducing human exposure to toxic chemicals by regulating releases of toxic chemicals into the ambient air." (RSA 125-I1), then the NED pipeline project, should not be built in New Hampshire. It is my hope that the NED pipeline project is not built at all.

Thank You,
Karen Miller
